

With so many negative image banded around about black men, it is nice to celebrate those who are out there working hard and giving brothers a good name every now and then. Also it is a good excuse to lust over some fit men, so here they are, our 10 hottest back men in the UK.

LEWIS HAMILTON,
Formula 1 race driver, 22

THIS RACING CAR former child prodigy only started competing as a Formula one driver this year and since then has had critics and opponents literally in a spin due to his skilful and extremely fast driving. He has set numerous records along the way, including being the first driver to finish in the top three in his first three F1 races, and the youngest ever driver to lead the championship, not to mention the first black driver. The fact that he's easy on the eye also doesn't harm his appeal and his down-to-earth nature and love for his family is another big turn-on.

AML AMEEN,
Actor 21

NEVER HAVE BLACK people had so much love and respect for the police, even if he is a fictional character. Aml's portrayal of PC Lewis Hardy on ITV drama The Bill has brought credibility, character and realism to the long-running TV show. The young actor who also starred in last year's Kidulthood has ambitions of being a Hollywood A-Lister and we know it's only a matter of time. He has been performing since the age of six and can add singing, dancing and writing scripts to his list of talents. It is not surprising then that the handsome star has the attention of everybody, especially the ladies.
